Hill-Raymond Scandal Brought Up in the Senate.

Important Transactions To-day in Committee.

HILL-RAYMOND AFFAIR IN THE SENATE.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Senator Kellogg to-day introduced his resolution asking for an investigation of the charges against him for complicity in the Hill-Raymond affair. Senator Thurman spoke against the resolution. He said it was a degradation of the dignity of the Senate to appoint such a Committee; that public men were always subjected to slanderous newspaper statements which the Senate could not take time to investigate; that the civil courts afforded ample remedies for all libelous accusations. He moved that the resolution be laid upon the table. This motion was carried by 34 to 25.

The vote was strictly partisan, except that David Davis voted with the Republicans.

THE PHILLIPS BILL AGREED TO.
The Judiciary Committee to-day agreed to Mr. Phillips' bill to provide that in all criminal and civil cases, other than equity and admiralty cases, the Circuit and District Courts of the United States shall conform to the practice of the Courts of Record of the seat within which such Circuit and District Courts are held, both as to the time and manner of instructing the jury and continuing the arguments.

MRS. MYRA CLARK GAINES.
National Associated Press to the Star.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 16.—The case of Manuel De Liano against Myra Clark Gaines was disposed of by the opinion delivered by Chief Justice Waite in the Supreme Court yesterday. This was one of Mrs. Gaines' suits to recover her real estate in New Orleans. Defendant De Liano moved to stay proceedings on the ground that a compromise had been effected. This the local court overruled and an appeal was taken. The Court decides that it has no jurisdiction, order not being appealable. The case will now proceed to judgment in New Orleans.

ANOTHER IMPORTANT OPINION.
Among the opinions delivered by the Supreme Court to-day was the following: Meritt Cox and J. C. Whitlock vs. National Bank of the State of New York, and M. Cox and J. C. Clardy vs. same. Appeals from the U. S. Circuit Court for Kentucky. Defendant was holder of a note accepted and payable by Cox and Cowan, New York, which was protested, the latter firm not being residents of New York, but of Louisville. But this was unknown to the defendants or the notary. The Court held that acceptance of the note in that form threw the responsibility on the acceptor, and affirmed decree below for the amount of the note, interest and costs.

A DENIAL.
Secretary Sherman denies reports put in circulation that he intended to buy a large amount of bonds in excess of surplus revenue, and says his purchases are not likely to exceed $2,000,000 per week. He will not, in any case, pay more than the market price of bonds, nor impair in any way the redemption fund.

TAMMANY'S ADVANCE GUARD.

New York, March 16.—Tammany is going on a mass to Cincinnati during the Democratic Convention next June. Fire Commissioner Gorman has been made Quartermaster of the delegation from New York, and he leaves to-day for that city for the purpose of engaging hotels and suitable quarters for the delegates and chiefs. Tilden's nomination is to be opposed at all hazards, and every one of the braves will endeavor to make the strife warm, bitter and successful as possible. To this end not less than five hundred representatives of the wigwag are to be provided with railroad tickets and free lodging in Cincinnati during the Convention. Tammany proposes to do things in regalia, and money will flow as freely as water for the entertainment of the Tammanyites and their friends, their intention being to show the Western and Southern delegates that Tammany is not a mere local faction, and is able to defeat Tilden in his own State should he be nominated by the Convention.

These parties appear to have been managing a gang of petty sneak thieves. Joseph was the head, and since his death others have been unable to continue their operations.

GRAIN AND FRUIT.

Wide Acreage of Grain Sown and a Rich Harvest Promised.

Fruit "All Right Up to the Present Time."

And the Farmer Happy in the Belief That the "Good Time Coming" Has Come.

Ohio.

HILLSBORO, March 15.—The wheat crop never looked better at this season of the year. The fruit prospects from observation and from what others say appears to be very promising. L. M. JOHNSON.

INOTON, March 15.—The wheat crop in this county is in fine condition and the acreage above an average. The fruit is still uncertain on account of forward condition of crop.

MAINEVILLE, March 15.—The wheat crop in this county looks splendid, promises a bountiful yield. The fruit crop is equally promising. What effect the present cold snap may produce remains for future developments. FRANK MEDDOCK.

OWENSVILLE, March 15.—Wheat looks well and there is a good prospect for a large crop. Fruit if the present cold snap does not kill it will also yield well.

AGENT.

BATAVIA, O., March 15.—Wheat never looked better in Clermont and its acreage exceeds any former year. The prospects of fruit are splendid, especially peaches, and all indications point to sure crops of berries in which this is the banner county in Ohio. Tobacco beds are being sown and more acres will be planted in the weed than ever before owing to the high prices of the leaf. Grass is coming out earlier than heretofore and the hay crop promises well. On the whole the farmers feel happy. ARTHUR P. BARCROFT.

ATTLE GROVE, March 15.—The wheat crop never looked better this time of the year. The wheat fields are as green as they usually are about the last of April. I have cattle that have wintered on green grass, except one week, when I turned them in on straw. The fruit, I think, is fair—very little killed yet. C. H. CHAPMAN.

PLEASANT PLAIN, March 15.—The prospect for wheat was never better than now. The acreage will average 30 per cent. greater than last year. Prospect for fruit very good; cherries all right, likewise apples. Small fruit, such as berries, &c., will be plenty if we have no severe frozes in this or next month. No peach trees left in this part of the country to bear fruit. THOMAS MORRIS.

HARRISON, March 15.—The prospect here for small grain was never better. We anticipate a good fruit crop unless checked by late frost. GEO. ASHBY.

MANFIELD, March 15.—Prospects for wheat in this vicinity have not been so good for many years; the crop is well set. So far the fruit is safe. Richland County has had the worst roads here that have ever been known. A. TICKNOR.

CONHOCTON, March 15.—The prospect for an abundant wheat crop was never better in this part of the country; know this to be general from observation all through this section, including the Counties of Coshocton, Tuscarawas, Holmes and Muskingum. The prospect for fruit is also at present very encouraging, especially apples and peaches. A. J. HILL.

GALION, March 15.—The prospects for a full crop of wheat are good, never better, and if favorable weather continues there will be a large yield. Fruit so far is doing well. We are having some pretty severe freezing now, but think it will not injure the prospects. SHULTZ.

MASON, March 15.—The crops are all in a very good condition. Prospects for an average harvest good. Fruits yet unborn, and without very severe weather the fruit crop in this vicinity will be an average yield. In some places the wet weather has damaged barley some, but as a general thing both wheat and barley look well. Times are also looking up, and all we want to make us happy is for the Chicago Convention to nominate J. G. Blaine, and our happiness will be complete. X. Y. Z.

CIRCLEVILLE, March 15.—The prospect for our crops, fruit and grain, were never better. The peaches look fine, also the wheat. A. J. PEMBERTON.

SIDNEY, March 15.—We have a fine prospect for wheat. Never saw trees in better condition for fruit. AGENT.

AMELIA, March 15.—In regard to crop prospects in this part of Clermont County, small fruits and berries look well, and there will probably be more than an average crop, without the intervention of late frosts. The prospects are fair for all kinds of fruits and berries, which are now our main dependence. Wheat looks well, taking in consideration the open winter. Many farmers complain that the fly has damaged the rye crop considerably. To sum it all up, the prospects for all kinds of crops are fully up to the average. TUTTLE, AGT.

BLANCHETTER, March 15.—The crops here are looking better at present than ever at this time of the year. Wheat, barley and rye is putting forth with glowing prospects. Apples, peaches, cherries and in fact fruits of all kind are promising. THOMAS DILLON.

MIDDLETOWN, March 15.—The prospect for a full crop of all kinds of fruit never was better. Wheat and all kinds of small grain are looking very fine. Prospects good for a large crop, about ten per cent. more acreage planted than in previous years. Altogether the prospect is very encouraging to the farmers living in this section of the country. HARRY LEDMAN.

MIAMI, March 15.—Crops are good. Wheat in excellent condition, and the prospect for barley is good. The prospects for all kinds of fruit are good so far. Grape vines are not injured by the frost. There is a good prospect for the peach crop. This winter has been a remarkable one. Everything is considered favorable. HARRY WEAVER.
